1 NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION

2 TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR COUNSEL OF RECORD:

3 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at 1:30 p.m. on May 1, 2014, before the Honorable Lucy
4 H. Koh, United States District Court for the Northern District of California, located in Courtroom
5 8, on the 4th Floor of the Robert F. Peckham Federal Building, 280 South 1st Street, San Jose, 6 California, Plaintiffs will, and hereby do, respectfully move for an order finally approving the 7 settlements with Defendants Intuit, Inc., Lucasfilm Ltd., and Pixar (collectively, the “Settling 8 Defendants”), specifically:

- 9 1. finding that the settlements reached with: (a) Intuit, Inc. (the “Intuit Settlement”) 10 and (b) Lucasfilm Ltd. and Pixar (the “Lucasfilm/Pixar Settlement”) (together, the 11 “Settlements”), are fair, reasonable, and adequate within the meaning of Rule 12 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and directing its consummation 13 pursuant to its terms; 14 2. finding that the notice provided to the Class constitutes due, adequate, and 15 sufficient notice, and meets the requirements of due process and applicable law; 16 3. approving the method for allocating the Settlements;
17 4. directing that this action be dismissed with prejudice as against the Settling 18 Defendants;
19 5. approving the release of claims as specified in the Settlements as binding and 20 effective;
21 6. reserving exclusive and continuing jurisdiction over the Settlements; and 22 7. directing that final judgment of dismissal be entered as between Plaintiffs and the 23 Settling Defendants.

24 This motion is brought pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e) and is based 25 upon the supporting Memorandum of Points and Authorities filed concurrently with this Notice; 26 the supporting Declaration of Anne B. Shaver, filed concurrently with this Notice; the records, 27 pleadings, and papers filed in this action, and upon such argument as may be presented to the 28 Court at the hearing on this motion.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs submit this Memorandum in support of final approval of their class action settlements with Defendants Intuit, Inc., Lucasfilm Ltd., and Pixar (collectively, the “Settling Defendants”). The settlement with Intuit secured $11,000,000 for the benefit of the Class. See Declaration of Kelly M. Dermody in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlements (Dkt. 502) (“Dermody Decl.”), Ex. 1 (Intuit Settlement Agreement). The settlement with Lucasfilm and Pixar secured $9,000,000 for the benefit of the Class. See Declaration of Joseph R. Saveri in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlements (Dkt. 503) (“Saveri Decl.”), Ex. 1 (Lucasfilm/Pixar Settlement Agreement). Together, the Settlements create an all-cash fund of $20,000,000. The Court should grant final approval of the Settlements because they are fair, reasonable, and adequate.

The Court granted preliminary approval of the Settlements on October 30, 2013. (Dkt. 540.) In doing so, the Court found that the Settlements fell within the range of reasonableness, and the factors relevant to final approval all weighed in favor of the Settlements (id. at 2); found that the proposed Plan of Allocation was sufficiently fair, reasonable, and adequate (id. at 3); certified the proposed Settlement Class (which is identical to the litigation class the Court certified on October 24, 2013; Dkt. 531) (id. at 3-6); approved settlement notice to the Class and found that the notice procedure is “the best practical means of providing notice of the Settlement Agreements under the circumstances, and when completed, shall constitute due and sufficient notice of the proposed Settlement Agreements and the Final Approval Hearing to all persons affected by and/or entitled to participate in the Settlement Agreements, in full compliance with the applicable requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 and due process” (id. at 7); appointed a Claims Administrator (id. at 7); and ordered a process for dissemination of the Settlement Notice, responses by Class members, and a Final Approval Hearing (id. at 7-13).

The parties have carried out the Court’s orders and the Settlements should be finally approved.

1 II. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

2 Plaintiffs challenge agreements among Defendants—all horizontal competitors for the 3 services of Plaintiffs and members of the Class—to fix and suppress the compensation of their 4 employees. (Complaint ¶¶ 55-107.) Plaintiffs seek compensation for violations of Section 1 of 5 the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, and the Cartwright Act, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code §§ 16720, et seq.
6 (Id. ¶¶ 119-164.)

7 After the Court consolidated the Plaintiffs’ individual lawsuits, Plaintiffs filed their 8 Consolidated Amended Complaint on September 13, 2011. (Dkt. 65.) Defendants challenged the 9 pleadings. All Defendants jointly and Lucasfilm separately moved to dismiss Plaintiffs’ claims.
10 (Dkts. 79 and 83.) The Court denied both motions, with the exception that Plaintiffs’ UCL claim 11 for restitution and disgorgement was dismissed for failure to allege a vested interest. (Apr. 18, 12 2012 Order; Dkt. 120.)

13 The parties completed broad, extensive, and thorough discovery related to both class 14 certification and the merits after the Court lifted a discovery stay in January 2012. Plaintiffs 15 served 75 document requests, for which Defendants collectively produced over 325,000 16 documents (over 3.2 million pages), and took 91 depositions of Defendant witnesses. (Dermody 17 Decl. ¶ 6 (Dkt. 502).) Defendants also propounded document requests, for which Plaintiffs 18 produced over 31,000 pages, and took the depositions of all named Plaintiffs. (Id.) With expert 19 assistance, Plaintiffs’ counsel also analyzed vast amounts of computerized employee 20 compensation and recruiting data, including nearly 1,000 files of employment related data 21 exceeding 15 gigabytes. (Id.) Plaintiffs’ counsel developed significant expert analysis and 22 testimony—providing Plaintiffs a strong basis for understanding the range of potential damages 23 suffered by the Class. (Saveri Decl. ¶ 10 (Dkt. 503).) The discovery process was thorough, and it 24 required the parties to engage in numerous and extensive meetings and conferences concerning 25 the scope of discovery and the analysis regarding the various electronic data, policy documents, 26 and other files produced. (Dermody Decl., ¶ 6 (Dkt. 502).)

27 On April 5, 2013, the Court issued its Order Granting in Part and Denying in Part 28 Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification. (Dkt. 382.) The Court found that Plaintiffs satisfied

1 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(a), and satisfied Rule 23(b)(3) as to conspiracy and damages.
2 The Court found that “the adjudication of Defendants’ alleged antitrust violation will turn on 3 overwhelmingly common legal and factual issues.” (Id. at 13.) Furthermore, after a detailed 4 inquiry, the Court held that a statistical regression analysis prepared by Plaintiffs’ expert 5 “provides a plausible methodology for showing generalized harm to the Class as well as 6 estimating class-wide damages.” (Id. at 43.) The Court requested further briefing on whether the 7 Rule 23(b)(3) predominance standard was met with respect to the common impact on the 8 proposed class. (Id. at 45.)

9 On May 10, 2013, Plaintiffs filed a Supplemental Motion for Class Certification to 10 address the Court’s request. (Dkts. 418, 455.) Plaintiffs marshaled additional documentary 11 evidence, testimony, and expert analyses.

12 Before the Court ruled on Plaintiffs’ Supplemental Motion, Plaintiffs and the Settling 13 Defendants reached the Settlements under the supervision of experienced mediator David A.
14 Rotman. After informal negotiations did not produce any settlements, Plaintiffs and all 15 Defendants conducted a day-long mediation supervised by Mr. Rotman on June 26, 2013.
16 (Dermody Decl. ¶ 8 (Dkt. 502).) After several weeks of follow-up negotiations, Plaintiffs 17 reached a settlement in principle with both Lucasfilm and Pixar on July 12, 2013 (Dkt. 453), and 18 reached another settlement in principle with Intuit on July 30, 2013 (Dkt. 489). (Id. ¶ 9.) At all 19 times during the negotiation process, counsel for Plaintiffs and the Settling Defendants bargained 20 vigorously and at arm’s length on behalf of their clients. (Id. ¶ 10.)

21 On September 21, 2013, Plaintiffs moved to preliminarily approve the Settlements. (Dkt.
22 501.)

23 On October 24, 2013, the Court granted the Supplemental Motion for Class Certification 24 and certified the proposed Technical Class in a detailed opinion. (Dkt. 531.)

25 On October 30, 2013, the Court granted preliminary approval of the Settlements with the 26
27
28

1 three Settling Defendants. (Dkt. 540.)¹

2 On March 5, 2014, Plaintiffs moved for attorneys' fees, reimbursement of out-of-pocket
3 costs, and service awards for the Named Plaintiffs. (Dkt. 718.)

4 On March 28, 2014, the Claims Administrator filed an affidavit of compliance. See 5 Declaration of Ronald A. Bertino (Dkt. 772) ("Bertino Decl.").

6 III. TERMS OF THE SETTLEMENTS

7 The Settlements resolve all claims of Plaintiffs and the Class against the Settling 8 Defendants. The details are contained in the Settlement Agreements attached as Exhibit 1 to the 9 Dermody Declaration (Dkt. 502) and the Saveri Declaration (Dkt. 503). The key terms are 10 described below.

11 A. The Class

12 The Settlements define the Settlement Class in the same way as the Settlement Class the 13 Court certified on October 30, 2013 (Dkt. 540), and the litigation Class the Court certified on 14 October 24, 2013 (Dkt. 531):

15 All natural persons who work in the technical, creative, and/or 16 research and development fields that were employed on a salaried 17 basis in the United States by one or more of the following: (a) 18 Apple from March 2005 through December 2009; (b) Adobe from 19 May 2005 through December 2009; (c) Google from March 2005 20 through December 2009; (d) Intel from March 2005 through December 2009; (e) Intuit from June 2007 through December 2009;
(f) Lucasfilm from January 2005 through December 2009; or (g) Pixar from January 2005 through December 2009. Excluded from the Class are: retail employees; corporate officers, members of the boards of directors, and senior executives of all Defendants.

21 (Lucas/Pixar Settlement § I.A (Dkt. 503); Intuit Settlement § I.A (Dkt. 502).) Both Settlements 22 also attach a list of all job titles included in this Class. (Lucas/Pixar Settlement, Ex. E (Dkt. 503); 23 Intuit Settlement, Ex. D (Dkt. 502).)

24 B. Settlement Sums and Additional Consideration

25 Lucasfilm and Pixar will pay $9,000,000 and Intuit will pay $11,000,000 into an escrow

26
27 ¹ On November 7, 2013, the Non-Settling Defendants sought appellate review of the Court's 28 Class Certification Order, pursuant to Rule 23(f). On January 15, 2014, the Ninth Circuit summarily denied the Non-Settling Defendants' request. (Dkt. 594.)

1 account (the “Settlement Fund”), held and administered by the escrow agent (Citibank, N.A.).
2 The Settlement Fund will be used in accordance with the Settlement Agreements and applicable
3 orders of the Court, to make payments to Class members, as well as for notice and claims 4 administration costs, Named Plaintiff service awards (if granted), and Court-approved attorneys’ 5 fees, costs, and litigation expenses.

6 As additional consideration, the Settling Defendants agreed to certain cooperation with 7 Class Counsel in the further prosecution of Plaintiffs’ claims against the Non-Settling Defendants.
8 Specifically, the Settling Defendants have agreed, as needed, to authenticate documents and to 9 provide the last known contact information for current or former employees for notice or 10 subpoena purposes to the extent consistent with California law. (Lucasfilm/Pixar Settlement § 11 III.B (Dkt. 503); Intuit Settlement § III.B (Dkt. 502).)

12 C. Monetary Relief To Class Members

13 Each Class member who submitted a timely and valid claim form is eligible to receive a 14 share of the Settlement Fund, under the Plan of Allocation based on a formula using each 15 claimant’s base salary paid while working in a Class position within the Class period as set forth 16 in the Class definition. (Lucasfilm/Pixar Settlement, Ex. C (Dkt. 503); Intuit Settlement, Ex. C 17 (Dkt. 502).) In other words, each Class member’s share of the Settlement Fund is a fraction, with 18 the Claimant’s base salary during the Class Period as the numerator and the total base salary 19 during the Class Period of all Claimants as the denominator:

$$\frac{\text{approved claimant's individual total base salary paid} \\ \text{in class positions during the Class Period}}{\text{total of base salaries paid to all approved Claimants} \\ \text{in class positions during the Class Period}}$$

24 The Claimant’s fractional amount will be multiplied against the Settlement Fund net of all 25 reductions for costs and taxes, including court-approved costs, service awards, and attorneys’ 26 fees. (Id.) There will be no reversion of unclaimed funds to any Settling Defendant. (Id.) 27
28

1 D. Release of All Claims Against the Settling Defendants and Reservation of 2 Rights

3 In exchange for the Settling Defendants' monetary and non-monetary consideration, the 4 Named Plaintiffs and Settlement Class members will release the Settling Defendants of all claims 5 related to the alleged conduct giving rise to this litigation upon entry of a final judgment
6 approving the proposed Settlements. (Lucasfilm/Pixar Settlement § V (Dkt. 503); Intuit 7 Settlement § V (Dkt. 502).) The Settlements preserve Plaintiffs' right to litigate against the Non-8 Settling Defendants for the entire amount of Plaintiffs' damages based on joint and several 9 liability under the antitrust laws. See, e.g., In re Corrugated Container Antitrust Litig., Case No.
10 M.D.L. 310, 1981 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9687, at *49-50 (S.D. Tex. June 4, 1981). Under the 11 Settlements, the Non-Settling Defendants remain liable for the full amount of Class damages, 12 including damages resulting from conduct by the Settling Defendants.

13 IV. ARGUMENT

14 A. The Class Action Settlement Approval Process

15 Judicial proceedings under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 have led to a defined three-16 step procedure for the approval of class action settlements:

- 17 (1) Preliminary approval of the proposed settlement after submission to the 18 court of a written motion for preliminary approval;
- 19 (2) Dissemination of notice of the proposed settlement to the class; and
- 20 (3) A formal fairness hearing, or final settlement approval hearing, at which 21 class members may be heard regarding the settlement, and at which 22 evidence and argument concerning the fairness, adequacy, and 23 reasonableness of the settlement is presented.

24 See MANUAL FOR COMPLEX LITIGATION (Fourth) §§ 21.632, et seq. (2004). This procedure 25 safeguards class members' procedural due process rights and enables courts to fulfill their roles as 26 guardians of class interests. See 4 NEWBERG ON CLASS ACTIONS, §§ 11.22, et seq. (4th ed. 2002).

27 The Court here completed the first step in the settlement approval process when it granted 28 preliminary approval to the Settlements. (Dkt. 540.) As discussed below, the second step has 29 been completed as well: the Court-approved notice plan was fully implemented. By this motion,

1 Plaintiffs request that the Court take the third and final step: holding a formal fairness hearing and 2 granting final approval of the proposed Settlements.

3 B. The Court-Approved Notice Program Meets Applicable Standards and Has 4 Been Fully Implemented.

5 When a proposed class action settlement is presented for court approval, the Federal Rules 6 of Civil Procedure require:

7 the best notice that is practicable under the circumstances, including individual 8 notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort. The notice 9 must clearly and concisely state in plain, easily understood language: (i) the 10 nature of the action; (ii) the definition of the class certified; (iii) the class claims, 11 issues, or defenses; (iv) that a class member may enter an appearance through an 12 attorney if the member so desires; (v) that the court will exclude from the class any 13 member who requests exclusion; (vi) the time and manner for requesting 14 exclusion; and (vii) the binding effect of a class judgment on members under 15 Rule 23(c)(3).

16 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B).

17 The notice plan approved by this Court is commonly used in class actions like this one 18 and constitutes valid, due, and sufficient notice to class members, and constitutes the best notice 19 practicable under the circumstances. The content of the notice complied with the requirements of 20 Rule 23(c)(2)(B). The notice provided a clear description of who is a member of the Class and 21 the binding effects of Class membership. (Bertino Decl., Ex. A at 2, 8 (Dkt. 772).) The notice 22 explained how to file a claim and receive money from the Settlements, how to opt out of one or 23 both of the Settlements, how to object to one or both of the Settlements, how to obtain copies of 24 relevant papers filed in the case, and how to contact Class Counsel and the Claims Administrator.
25 (Id. at 9-14, 16.)

26 The notice also explained that the Settlements themselves were filed publicly with the 27 Court and available online at www.hightechemployeelawsuit.com. As a result, every provision of 28 the Settlements was available to each Class member. In addition, other important documents were available at the same website, including: the Court's order certifying the litigation Class; the Court's order preliminarily approving the Settlements; the notice; the claim form; and Plaintiffs' motion for attorneys' fees, reimbursement of expenses, and service awards (and supporting

1 declarations of Class Counsel and the Class Representatives). See 2 www.hightechemployeeelawsuit.com/documents/.

3 The Court approved the notice plan. (Dkt. 540 at 7.) The Court ordered all Defendants to 4 produce contact information to the Claims Administrator by November 25, 2013. (Dkt. 540 at 8.) 5 Defendants did so. (Bertino Decl., ¶ 5 (Dkt. 772). The Court found that the notice “satisfies the 6 requirements of due process and of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and, accordingly, is 7 approved for dissemination to the Class.” (Dkt. 540 at 8.) In order to also provide notice for 8 certification of the litigation class, the Court vacated the notice mailing deadline (Dkt. 728), and 9 the Court itself provided the parties with a revised notice (Dkt. 553-1), which the Claims 10 Administrator mailed to the Class on January 22, 2014. (Bertino Decl., ¶ 7 (Dkt. 772).) The 11 Claims Administrator also caused a “case-specific website to become operational with case 12 information, court documents relating to the Settlement[s], the Notice, and electronic claim filing 13 capability.” (Dkt. 540 at 9; Bertino Decl., ¶ 11 (Dkt. 772).) Class members had a variety of 14 methods by which to file a claim or opt out of the Settlements and/or ongoing Class litigation, 15 including mail, telephone, and a case specific website. (Bertino Decl., Ex. A at 13 (Dkt. 772).)² 16 The case specific website also had a contact form feature, permitting Class members to email the 17 Claims Administrator directly. (Bertino Decl., ¶ 11 (Dkt. 772).) Class members also contacted 18 Class Counsel, through both email and telephone, and Class Counsel provided the relevant 19 information to the Claims Administrator, who processed the requests. (Declaration of Anne B.
20 Shaver In Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Final Approval of Class Action Settlements (“Shaver 21 Decl.”), ¶ 9.)

23 ² As previously raised by the parties, addressed by the Court, and resolved by the Claims 24 Administrator, the opt-out email address was not functioning for the first three weeks of the 25 notice period. During those three weeks, only one Class member indicated an issue with the opt-26 out email address, and that Class member was able to opt out through one of the many other 27 means for communicating with the Claims Administrator. (Dkt. 727, at 4.) The error was 28 corrected and appropriately addressed. In accordance with the Court’s Order dated March 10, 2014, the Claims Administrator sent a reminder notice to Class members that informed them again of critical dates for exercising their rights under the Settlements and explained the problem with the opt-out email address and confirmed restored functionality. (Dkt. 728; Bertino Decl., ¶ 14 (Dkt. 772).) There is no indication that any Class member wanted to opt out but was unable to do so.

1 The Court also approved dissemination of a reminder notice on March 10, 2014, and 2 extended all deadlines to respond to the notice to March 26, 2014. (Dkt. 728.) The Claims 3 Administrator mailed the reminder notice to the Class on the Court’s deadline of March 13, 2014.
4 (Bertino Decl., ¶ 14 (Dkt. 772).)

5 C. Final Approval of the Settlements is Appropriate.

6 The law favors the compromise and settlement of class action suits. See, e.g., Officers for 7 Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 635 (9th Cir. 1982); Churchill Vill., L.L.C. v. GE, 8 361 F.3d 566, 576 (9th Cir. 2004); Class Plaintiffs v. City of Seattle, 955 F.2d 1268, 1276 (9th 9 Cir. 1992). “[T]he decision to approve or reject a settlement is committed to the sound discretion 10 of the trial judge because [she] is ‘exposed to the litigants and their strategies, positions and 11 proof.’” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1988) (quoting Officers for 12 Justice, 688 F.2d at 626). In exercising such discretion, courts should give “proper deference to 13 the private consensual decision of the parties. . . . [T]he court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise 14 a private consensual agreement negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the 15 extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or 16 overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a 17 whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Id. at 1027 (citation and quotations 18 omitted). All of the relevant factors support final approval of the Settlements here.

19 It is well established in the Ninth Circuit that “voluntary conciliation and settlement are 20 the preferred means of dispute resolution.” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625. “[T]here is an 21 overriding public interest in settling and quieting litigation” and “[t]his is particularly true in class 22 action suits.” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 F.2d 943, 950 (9th Cir. 1976); see also Utility 23 Reform Project v. Bonneville Power Admin., 869 F.2d 437, 443 (9th Cir. 1989). In evaluating a 24 proposed class action settlement, the Ninth Circuit has recognized that:

25 [T]he universally applied standard is whether the settlement is fundamentally fair, 26 adequate and reasonable. The district court’s ultimate determination will 27 necessarily involve a balancing of several factors which may include, among 28 others, some or all of the following: the strength of plaintiffs’ case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; the risk of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in settlement; the extent of discovery completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the 1 experience and views of counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and 2 the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.

3 Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625 (citations omitted); accord Torrasi v. Tucson Elec. Power
4 Co., 8 F.3d 1370, 1375 (9th Cir. 1993). The Court is entitled to exercise its “sound discretion”
5 when deciding whether to grant final approval. Ellis v. Naval Air Rework Facility, 87 F.R.D. 15, 6 18 (N.D. Cal. 1980), aff’d, 661 F.2d 939 (9th Cir. 1981); Torrasi, 8 F.3d at 1375.

7 1. The Settlements are the Products of Arm’s-Length Negotiations 8 Between the Parties and Follow Years of Hard-Fought Litigation and 9 Plaintiffs’ Thorough Investigation.

10 ““Before approving a class action settlement, the district court must reach a reasoned 11 judgment that the proposed agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion 12 among, the negotiating parties’” City of Seattle, 955 F.2d at 1290 (quoting Ficalora v.
13 Lockheed Cal. Co., 751 F.2d 995, 997 (9th Cir. 1985)). “Where, as here, a proposed class 14 settlement has been reached after meaningful discovery, after arm’s length negotiation, conducted 15 by capable counsel, it is presumptively fair.” M. Berenson Co., Inc. v. Faneuil Hall Marketplace, 16 Inc., 671 F. Supp. 819, 822 (D. Mass. 1987).

17 The proposed Settlements here are the product of arm’s-length negotiations. All parties 18 were represented throughout these negotiations by counsel experienced in the prosecution, 19 defense, and settlement of complex antitrust and employment class actions. (See Dermody Decl., 20 ¶¶ 3-4 (Dkt. 502); Saveri Decl., ¶ 2 (Dkt. 503).)

21 The Settlements were reached at a particularly advanced stage of this litigation – 22 occurring after the completion of discovery, after a full round of class certification briefing, after 23 the Court denied in part and granted in part Plaintiffs’ initial class certification motion, and after 24 the second class certification round was underway. By this time, the parties were well aware of 25 the strengths and weaknesses of their claims and the risks of ongoing litigation, which allowed for 26 informed decisions and fair settlements.

27 2. The Settlements Are Fair, Reasonable, and Adequate.

28 Plaintiffs’ proposed Settlements meet the standards for final approval. As the Court found in preliminarily approving the Settlements: “all of the relevant factors [for final approval] weigh

1 in favor of the Settlement[s] proposed here.” (Dkt. 540 at 2.) “First, the settlements are entitled 2 to ‘an initial presumption of fairness’ because they are the result of arm’s-length negotiations 3 among experienced counsel.” (Id., quoting Newberg § 11.41.) “Second, the consideration agreed 4 to—a total of $20 million ($9 million for Pixar and Lucasfilm and $11 million for Intuit)—is 5 substantial, particularly in light of the fact that the Settling Defendants collectively account for 6 less than 8% of Class members, and together account for approximately 5% of total Class 7 compensation.” (Id.) “Third, the Non-Settling Defendants remain jointly and severally liable for 8 all damages caused by the conspiracy, including damages from the Settling Defendants’ 9 conduct.” (Id., citing In re Corrugated Container Antitrust Litig., 1981 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9687, 10 at *51.) “Fourth, the Settlements call for the Settling Defendants to cooperate with Plaintiffs in 11 terms of authenticating documents and providing the last known contact information for current 12 or former employee-witnesses for notice or subpoena purposes to the extent consistent with 13 California law.” (Id., citing In re Mid-Atlantic Toyota Antitrust Litig., 564 F. Supp. 1379, 1386 14 (D. Md. 1983).)

15 In addition, the Plan of Allocation will provide each claimant with a fractional share that 16 will be multiplied against the Settlement Fund net of all reductions for costs and taxes, including 17 court-approved costs, service awards, and attorneys’ fees. (See Dermody Decl., Ex. 1 at Ex. C; 18 Ex. 2 at Ex. C (Dkt. 502).) There will be no reversion of unclaimed funds to any Settling 19 Defendant. (Id.) “A plan of allocation that reimburses class members based on the extent of 20 their injuries is generally reasonable.” In re Oracle Sec. Litig., No. 90-0931-VRW, 1994 U.S.
21 Dist. LEXIS 21593, at *3 (N.D. Cal. June 16, 1994). Here, as explained above, Plaintiffs propose 22 that the Settlement Fund be allocated based upon total base salary received during the conspiracy 23 period. Such pro rata distributions are “cost-effective, simple, and fundamentally fair.” In re 24 Airline Ticket Comm’n Antitrust Litig., 953 F. Supp. 280, 285 (D. Minn. 1997); see also In re 25 Electrical Carbon Prods. Antitrust Litig., 447 F. Supp. 2d 389, 404 (D.N.J. 2006) (finding pro 26 rata distribution “eminently reasonable and fair to the class members.”).

27 Further, Plaintiffs and the Settling Defendants entered into the Settlements after the Court 28 had largely denied Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification without prejudice, and before the

1 Court ruled on Plaintiffs' Supplemental Motion for Class Certification. The risks of ongoing 2 litigation, particularly at the time the Settlements were reached, also weigh in favor of approving 3 the Settlements.

4 Finally, the Settlements preserve Plaintiffs' right to litigate against the Non-Settling 5 Defendants for the entire amount of Plaintiffs' damages based on joint and several liability under 6 the antitrust laws. See, e.g., In re Corrugated Container Antitrust Litig., 1981 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 7 9687, at *49-50. Under the Settlements, the Non-Settling Defendants remain liable for the full 8 amount of Class damages, including those resulting from the Settling Defendants' conduct.

9 3. The Recommendation of Experienced Counsel Favors Approval.

10 The judgment of experienced counsel regarding the Settlements should be given 11 significant weight. See Linney v. Cellular Alaska P'Ship, Nos. 96-3008-DLJ, 97-0203-DLJ, 97-
12 0425-DLJ, & 97-0457-DLJ, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24300, at *16 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 1997), aff'd
13 151 F.3d 1234 (9th Cir. 1998); Ellis, 87 F.R.D. at 18; Boyd v. Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 14 622 (N.D. Cal. 1979) ("The recommendations of plaintiffs' counsel should be given a 15 presumption of reasonableness."). Co-Lead Class Counsel endorse the Settlements as fair, 16 adequate, and reasonable. (Dermody Decl., ¶ 11 (Dkt. 502); Saveri Decl., ¶ 10 (Dkt. 503).)

17 Plaintiffs' counsel have extensive experience litigating and settling antitrust and 18 employment class actions. They have conducted an in-depth investigation into the factual and 19 legal issues raised in this action. The fact that qualified and well-informed counsel endorse the 20 Settlements as being fair, reasonable, and adequate weighs in favor of the Court approving them.

21 4. The Class Response Favors Final Approval.

22 A court may appropriately infer that a class settlement is fair, adequate, and reasonable 23 when few Class members object to it. See Marshall v. Holiday Magic, Inc., 550 F.2d 1173, 1178 24 (9th Cir. 1977); Nat'l Rural Telecomm. Coop. v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D. 523, 529 (C.D. Cal.
25 2004) ("the absence of a large number of objections to a proposed class settlement action raises a 26 strong presumption that the terms of a proposed class action settlement are favorable to 27 the class members."). Indeed, a court can approve a class action settlement over the objections of 28 a significant percentage of Class members. See City of Seattle, 955 F.2d at 1291-96.

1 Out of 64,613 Class members, only five submitted objections. (Shaver Decl., ¶ 2.) None
2 of them raises meritorious concerns. See Browne v. Am. Honda Motor Co., No. 09-06750, 2010
3 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 145475, at *51 (C.D. Cal. July 29, 2010) (“The fact that there is opposition 4 does not necessitate disapproval of the settlement. Instead, the court must independently evaluate 5 whether the objections being raised suggest serious reasons why the proposal might be unfair.”) 6 (quoting Boyle v. Arnold-Williams, No. 01-5687, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 91920, *10-11 (W.D.
7 Wash. Dec. 20, 2006) (quotations omitted)).

8 Class member Eric Grosse objected on the basis that “I do not consider the lawsuit well-9 founded.” (Shaver Decl., Ex. 1.) This objection does not comment on any aspect of the 10 Settlements and is therefore irrelevant at this juncture. Wren v. RGIS Inventory Specialists, No.
11 06-05778-JCS, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 38667, at *40-41 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2011) (overruling 12 objections submitted without stating basis thereof, and objections that “do not go to the fairness 13 of the settlement”). His interests also appear adverse to the Class.

14 Similarly, Class member Emma Merrell objected because she believes any settlement 15 would harm current employees and not benefit the Class, and she disagrees that Defendants’ 16 conduct harmed the Class. (Shaver Decl., Ex. 2.) It appears that her concerns are not aimed at 17 the type of settlement reached, but at the fact that there was a litigation and settlement that she 18 believes were harmful. Because it appears she would object to any settlement, she has an interest 19 that is adverse to the Class and inconsistent with achieving a fair, adequate, and reasonable 20 recovery. See Wren, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 38667 at *40-41.

21 On the opposite side of the spectrum, Class members Tom Sanocki and Jeffrey Brown 22 objected because they believe the Settlements should be “much greater” in order to “avoid 23 anticompetitive behavior in the future.” (Shaver Decl., Exs. 3 & 4.) These two objections do not 24 consider the fact that the Settlements preserve the Class’s ability to seek the full amount of 25 estimated damages from the remaining Non-Settling Defendants, including estimated damages 26 resulting from the Settling Defendants’ misconduct. They overlook that the amounts of the 27 Settlements are appropriate given the relative size of the population of Class members employed 28 by the Settling Defendants and their relative amount of commerce in the case. They also ignore

1 the benefits to Class members in securing a monetary recovery in light of the risks faced by 2 Plaintiffs in ongoing litigation, particularly at the time of the Settlements.

3 Finally, Class member Conrad Minshall objected because he did not believe the Class 4 could fairly evaluate the Settlements without the underlying salary data and that the settlement 5 amount should be based on impact to the entire high tech labor market and not just to Class 6 positions at the seven companies. (Shaver Decl., Ex. 5.) He argues that employees like him who 7 changed jobs during the class period should receive more than Class members who did not. (Id.) 8 Plaintiffs disagree. Each Class member knows his or her own salary data or can confirm such 9 from the Claims Administrator. There is no basis to allow Class members access to all salary 10 data, which is highly confidential, but which has already been analyzed for the Court's benefit in 11 the Class certification papers, which are publicly available on the docket. See Californians for 12 Disability Rights, Inc. v. Cal. DOT, No. 06-5125-SBA, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 62837, at *27 13 (N.D. Cal. June 2, 2010) (overruling class member objection to lack of public information on 14 defendant's overall budget because Plaintiffs and class counsel had considered the information 15 when negotiating settlement). As to the market impact issue, this has no merit, as the claims of 16 employees outside of the Class positions (e.g., at other employers) are not in this case. Finally, 17 his assertion that Class members who changed jobs during the Class period were "the most 18 impacted" is not supported by the record in this case. Id. (rejecting class member objection based 19 on "unsupported" assertion); see also Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1021 (affirming final approval of 20 nationwide class action settlement where "[t]he objectors presented no evidence" to support their 21 arguments).

22 The low objection rate here confirms that the Settlements are fair, adequate, and 23 reasonable, and should be approved. In addition, 10,634 Class members have filed Claim forms, 24 while only 167 have opted out of the Settlements. (Shaver Decl., ¶ 8.) The response from the 25 Class overwhelmingly favors Settlement approval.

26 V. CONCLUSION

27 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court grant final 28 approval to the Settlements; approve the notice as being in compliance with Federal Rule of Civil

1 Procedure 23 and due process; approve the proposed Plan of Allocation as fair, reasonable, and 2 adequate; and confirm the Settlement Class certification (identical to the litigation class the Court 3 certified on October 24, 2013; Dkt. 531).
